

JOINING MASTERMIND LEADS TO BIG WINS FOR JENNY

EAT Blog TALK

Staying on top of changes was challenging.

After spending years on her blog CookEatGo, Jenny's website growth stalled. She couldn't figure out why. And she needed help navigating the constant amount of new information flooding the industry

Shortly after joining the mastermind, Jenny scored several big wins. And she found a like-minded group that she quickly came to trust.

Her goals: Improve her technology skills, gain traffic, and create connections with others in the blogging world.

What she learned: How to use Gutenberg, make web stories, and create pins on Pinterest the right way.

Results: She became consistent with her email marketing and grew her click-through and open rates. She also increased Pinterest traffic.

What's next: Jenny plans to create new content, improve her photography, and increase her affiliate work.
